

An EHS solution you would recommend to a friend

But don't just take our word for it....

"Our past onboarding process consists of outdated DVDs and lacked curriculum that would bring educational value to the attendees. This antiquated platform subjected us to regulatory non-compliance issues but most importantly, lacked a solid training platform as where the employees could learn and apply their knowledge in the manufacturing environment. Having a solid learning system such as EHS Hero in place during the onboarding process is essential and has brought value to the organization. The onboarding process is the time to train, educate and is truly the beginning and development of your safety culture."

The ease of instructing, the various means in which you can deliver and present the material. It does not take a safety professional and one having vast knowledge in the OSHA standards to conduct the training."

– Steve Fischer, Corporate EHS Manager at Herff Jones

"I was spending way too much time researching safety topics and needed a more comprehensive safety resource that provided quality training methods. EHS Hero offers comprehensive subject matter and is easy to use. EHS Hero will make your life and job so much easier – I couldn't be more pleased."

– Jlynn Francke, Human Resources Manager at BUSE Timber & Sales, Inc.

"EHS Hero was a game changer. Before EHS Hero, I had a lot of outdated, ineffectual safety training materials. What ultimately sold me was the large amount of content available and how easy EHS Hero was to use."

– Jeffery Voorhies, CSP, EHS Engineer at North America Fuel System

"I needed better employee safety training and had a difficult time finding it until EHS Hero. What stood out to me was EHS Hero's vast selection of general industry content. If you're looking into EHS Hero, just get it! You won't regret it!"

– Michelle Bourke, Health Safety Environmental Specialist at Liva Nova
